Dear Mr. Borel:

The office of Technical Services is presently preparing material for publication of Technical Translations, a semi-monthly publication, the first issue planned for release in January, 1959. In order to help prevent duplication of effort by agencies which might otherwise initiate translation work on reports not known to be in process, we plan to provide among other services a listing of all documents that are currently in process of being translated by Government activities. The material will be prepared without reference to source of information to protect possible security interests.

In connection with our listing service, it is requested that a list of reports currently in process of being translated by your activity be forwarded to this office for inclusion in our first issue of Technical Translations. If possible, information should be received by this office by November 15, 1958, in time for us to include it in the January issue of our translation bulletin. Any subsequent information should be sent on a continued basis as it becomes available in order that it may be included in later issues.

Your cooperation in helping us to provide a "translations-in-process-service" will be appreciated.

Very truly yours,

George K. Taylor, Chief
Acquisitions Branch
Technical Information Division
